DRESS FOR SUCCESS AND COMPETE AT THE HEATHLAND CLASSIC

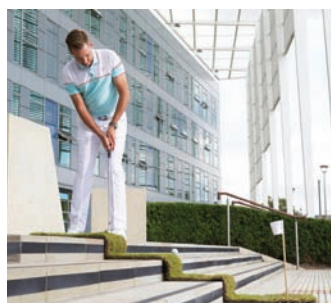

STAND OUT AND PLAY YOUR GAME IN STYLE THIS SEASON – WIN A £100 IJP DESIGN VOUCHER

Midlands Golfer are offering you the opportunity to look even better this golfing season and be one of the first people to experience the new IJP Design collection by giving you the chance to win a free £100 IJP Design voucher.

Ian Poulter's stylish attire isn't just a very public way of making himself stand out in a crowd – Clothes are a genuine passion for the flamboyant 39-year-old. So much so, his golfing apparel brand, IJP Design, follows his own philosophy very closely, creating an extensive range of high quality, distinctive clothing, that is both functional and fashionable, to ensure you look good on and off the course.

IJP's new Race to Ace campaign coincides with the launch of its new Spring/Summer 2015 collection, which was launched earlier in February.

The Spring/Summer 2015 Collection offers a sporty, contemporary and bold collection, inspired by the futurist 1980s cinematography and cartoon classics. This influence has inspired the names of this seasons tartans; Tron and Sonic. Combining simplistic graphical lines of the 1980s with modern architectural structures of the London skyline to create a varied collection.

£100 IJP Design voucher for the lady or gent golfer who correctly answers this simple question below:

Which Premier League football team does Ian Poulter follow?

- A) Chelsea
- B) West Ham United
- C) Arsenal

The Heathland Classic returns to the Midlands golfing schedule in June.

The three day amateur pairs stableford competition hosted by Lindrick, Sherwood Forest and The Notts Golf Club (Hollinwell) enjoyed a successful first year in 2014, so successful in fact that it quickly sold out for this year too.

That's the bad news, the good news is that the organisers kindly donated spots to Midlands Golfer and you can join us at the 54 hole event to be held from 10th-12th June by entering the competition below.

You'll get to share the first two days of the Heathland Classic at Lindrick and then Hollinwell with Matt & Simon, two MG reviewers from Northants who will represent us at the event. On the third concluding day at Sherwood Forest, competitors will tee off in reverse order according to their leaderboard position in true competition style.

Cooks & Company

SUBZERO

The new sponsors for the tournament this year are Newark based firm Cooks and Company who specialise in luxury retail and electrical goods from their lavishly stocked showroom and are regularly linked with names such as Ideal Home and Grand Design.

They are currently discussing the possibility of providing a hospitality buggy on all 3 days to provide refreshments 'European style' to all competitors.

In addition there will be one full height Sub Zero wine cooler worth over £10,000 for the first hole in one recorded at the event. MD, Pete Cook told us "The Heathland Classic is a fantastic event at arguably three of the best courses not only in the Midlands but the country, I can't wait to tee off myself at Lindrick."

To enter the competition to win a starting time for two male golfers, max handicap 24 just answer this simple question.

Which one of the courses hosted The Ryder Cup in 1957?

- A/ Sherwood Forest
- B/ Hollinwell
- C/ Lindrick
